

Prize Package #2 (SKU 53215)

The official in-store Hobby OP program for the WoW TCG is set to launch in Spring 2007*. I am confident that it will be a huge success and help to drive traffic and sales in stores that host sanctioned events. In the meantime, we've offered you this package of Extended Art WoW TCG cards to use as prize support for in-store tournaments.

- Please note that you must be a certified UDE Tournament Organizer (T.O.) to run and upload sanctioned UDE events. The Level 1 T.O. test can be found at www.ude.com/judge.
- You must have a 9-digit UDE Membership # in order to take this test. If you need a number, please email player@upperdeck.com with "UDE #" in the subject line.

* It will be crucial that you are able to use our MANTIS tournament software for this upcoming Hobby program, so please take a few moments and download version 3.0 at www.ude.com/mantis and familiarize yourself with creating, running, and uploading tournaments with the software. If you have any questions, you can email to@upperdeck.com and we'll get you sorted out.

Hobby League Beta – January 2007

The contents of this package are configured to support up to 4 events in January. Prizes are provided for the top 4 players each week with a Participation Card for your first 50 players for the month. You may determine your own prize structure using these materials, but please, to uphold the global integrity of this program, ONLY use these materials for prize support. If you are found selling these materials, you will be subject to suspension or removal of your UDE direct account status for up to 2 years.

The Road to Regionals Invitation Certificate

Hobby League Beta events you hold on January 6 or 7, can be considered a Road to Regionals event. The winner of a Road to Regionals tournament should receive the Invitation Certificate included in this kit. This certificate provides FREE entry for one player into any WoW TCG Regionals Tournament listed on www.ude.com/wow/regionals. In order for your winner to receive free entry, you MUST fill out the Invitation Certificate completely, AND include your store stamp, OR an attached business card from you or your store. Certificates without a store stamp or attached business card may not be accepted.

In order for you to host a Road to Regionals Hobby League Beta event, you MUST hold a constructed tournament on either Saturday January 6, or Sunday January 7. Other Hobby League Beta events in January should not award an Invitation Certificate to the winner.

Stores like you, who participate in Hobby League Beta, are listed on www.ude.com/wow/hobbyleague to help promote your in-store events. This location list points heavily to the Road to Regionals events, and in particular, lists January 6th and 7th as key dates for in-store WoW TCG events. If your store will not be participating in the Road to Regionals weekend, or you would simply like to be removed from the location list, please email hobbyleague@upperdeck.com with "Remove Listing" in the subject line.
